

Dear Parents

As you are aware there will be no after school activities and in light of the current forecast, no late coaches this evening. We have arranged for extra coaches at the end of school for students who usually catch the late coach.

The weather forecast for tomorrow suggests that conditions will deteriorate further and we may need to close the school. A final decision will be made early tomorrow morning and we will use the Headmaster's Twitter feed (@elthamhead) and school website to update you. We are letting you know early, as we appreciate that parents will need to juggle their own commitments and journeys into work and may need to put contingency plans into place. We would not expect anyone to travel to school unless it is safe to do so.

If we need to close and your son/daughter is in Years 11 – 13 please ask them to check their school email accounts and our staff will send work through as appropriate.
